

For the past six springs, New Yorkers pedaled past colorful blossoms on their way to work, home, or just cruising.

Yet, some cruisers wearied whilst scouting a docking station [•]. And some on foot languished curbside without saddle to straddle.

Empty and full docking stations sprout like dandelions under the sun and moon, shown in 10 minute increments. Availability waxes and wanes by time and place.

A ride against the flow is a joy ride for us all.

Angles of full-empty docking indicators mark time of problem.

Demand for bikes generally peaked around 9AM, after sunrise, and again at 7PM, in the dark.
